RUSSIANS BLAME ITALIAN DISPUTE

Say Only Stumbling Block To Accord Is In That Treaty

ASSERT AGREEMENT MUST PRECEDE GENERAL CONFAB

By Joseph Dynan

PARIS, May 11.—(AP)—Russia, making it clear that the only stumbling block to accord apparently lay in the stalled Italian treaty, insisted again today before the deadlocked four-power Foreign Ministers Council that agreement on all treaties with former axis satellites must precede a general European peace conference.

American sources said, following today's second meeting of the ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, that V. M. Molotov, Russian Foreign Minister, regarded the Italian treaty as an obstacle, and that he did not think the ministers harbored fundamental differences concerning the Balkan treaties.

Russia still was at variance with the United States and Great Britain, the sources said, over Italian reparations and colonies, and the disputed port of Trieste, sought by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes urged Molotov once more today, the American informants said, to agree upon a specific date for convening the 21-Nation Peace Conference.

When Molotov declared that the ministers first should agree on all points, Byrnes replied that if the Russian thesis were accepted, then anyone could block the peace conference simply by disagreeing on any one point. After an inconclusive exchange of arguments on this point, the council adjourned until Monday morning.

Molotov pointed out that the Russians reversed their stand yesterday by agreeing to a French proposal that Italy be named sole trustee under the United Nations, of all her pre-fascist colonies. He said also he did not favor a British proposal for British trusteeship of Cyrenaica in northern Africa.

During the morning session, Byrnes said the United States would accept the French plan for Italian reparations, giving the Russians $10,000,000, provided payments were restricted to Italian assets in Balkan countries now occupied by the Russian army, Italian naval and merchant vessels and excess industrial equipment in former war factories.

The American suggested, informants said, that Russia might choose the Italian ocean liners Vulcania and Saturnia, now in American hands, (Continued on Eighth Page)

SEE HOUSE FIGHT ON BRITISH LOAN

Committee Will Invite Jones And Baruch To Present Views

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Chairman Spence, Democrat, Kentucky, of the House banking committee said today he will invite Jesse Jones and Bernard M. Baruch to present their views on the proposed $3,750,000,000 British loan.

House committee hearings on the long-term credit arrangement, approved yesterday by the Senate after prolonged debate, will open Tuesday with Treasury Secretary Fred M. Vinson starting off the administration's argument for passage.

Neither Jones, former secretary of commerce and RFC chief, nor Baruch, long-time adviser of presidents, appeared during Senate committee hearings on the transaction.

Jones, however, has criticized the loan as "unbusinesslike" in the editorial columns of his Houston (Tex.) Chronicle, and Baruch has urged caution in loan policies.

Spence predicted a "ding-dong" battle in his committee, but a check of members indicated the loan legislation will get approval there, with strong Democratic support.

Representative Buffett, Republican, Nebraska, a committee member and one of the leaders of the opposition, said that "it may be a different story when the bill reaches the floor. The people don't want this loan."

However, administration forces were (Continued on Seventeenth Page)

IMPROVEMENT MADE BY SIAMESE TWINS

PORTLAND, Ore., May 11.—(AP)—Carol and Susan Hulse, Portland's Siamese twins, improved noticeably today, and the attending physician said they had a strong chance for survival.

"They are taking nourishment, their color is good and they are very alert," Dr. Joseph V. Springer reported.

The twins were born here Tuesday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hulse of Deep River, Wash. They are joined at the base of the spine in such a manner that Dr. Springer said they would never be able to walk.

UNIONISTS URGE POLL TAX FIGHT

Want It Brought Up As Counter Move To Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—C. I. O. unionists were reported today to be urging Senate friends to counter the drive for labor legislation by bringing up the anti-poll tax bill.

Senator Mitchell, Democrat, Washington, one of the nine Senators who voted yesterday against taking up labor bills, told reporters he has received telegrams from several C. I. O. locals asking that the anti-poll tax measure "be substituted" as the Senate's business.

But he added that he has no idea what strategy may be followed by those Senators opposing what they term "restrictive" labor legislation.

Twice in the past the anti-poll tax bill has provoked a Southern filibuster. Any senator wanting to get it up could follow either of these courses:

Offer it as an amendment to the pending labor bill.

Move to put the labor bill aside and take up the anti-poll tax measure.

A motion of that nature is debatable and, under Senate rules, cloture (limitation of debate) cannot be invoked on such a motion.

Mitchell said he had "a hunch" no legislation will come out of the present Senate vote. But Senator Eastland, Democrat, Mississippi, a leader in getting the labor bill before the Senate, predicted:

2 U. S. SOLDIERS SLAIN FROM AMBUSH

NUERNBERG, May 11.—(AP)—Shots fired from ambush killed two American soldiers attached to the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes as they rode in a jeep last night through this one-time shrine city of Nazism.

Four companions, including three young women, escaped injury in the ambush. Both men were shot in the chest.

Army authorities declared an intensive investigation had been started, but there was no indication that any clues to the assassins had been turned up yet.

The names of the victims were not disclosed pending notification of next of kin. The two were killed in the northern section of Nuernberg, where 22 leading Nazis now are on trial for war crimes.

The other four occupants of the jeep were identified officially as T-5 Elmer Holdway, of Cambria, Va.; Rose Korb of Hammond, Ind.; Kay Gass of London, Eng., and Kathleen O'Farrell of Limerick, Ire.

Miss Korb is employed by the American prosecution in the war crimes trial, and informants on Stars and Stripes said her home is in Gary, Ind. Holdway, Miss Gass and Miss O'Farrell also are on the Stars and Stripes staff.

Says Bomb Remains Menace Unless Human Relationships Understood

NEW YORK, May 11.—(P)—President Truman declared today that until the world learns the science of human relationships "the atomic bomb will remain a frightful weapon which threatens to destroy all of us."

Speaking before a crowd which overflowed 10,000 seats on the campus of Fordham University, celebrating the 100th anniversary of its charter, the President declared:

"It is up to education to bring about that deeper international understanding which is so vital to world peace."

Mr. Truman, whose address was broadcast over all networks, said there was at least one defense against the atomic bomb.

"That defense lies in our mastering this science of human relationship all over the world," he said. "It is the defense of tolerance and of understanding, of intelligence and thoughtfulness."

The President and his party landed at LaGuardia Field at 12:48 p. m. (CST) in his C-54 "The Sacred Cow," and drove to the Fordham campus immediately.

Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallender estimated that 400,000 persons hailed the President, some waving, others shouting "Harry" as the motor caravan rolled swiftly through blocked-off streets.

The President—who studied law in Kansas City in the early 1920's—donned a gold-tasseled cap and a purple-banded gown to receive Fordham's honorary degree as doctor of law.

Cloudy skies which had threatened to chase the ceremony indoors cleared after noon and the day was comfortably warm when the President began his address at 3 p. m. (CST).

"Education faces the greatest challenge in its history," the President said, in preparing veteran and other young men and women "to live in the new atomic age."

"Intelligent men do not hate other men just because their religion may be different, because their habits and language may be different, or because their national origin or color may be different," he said.

"Intelligent Americans no longer think that merely because a man is born outside boundaries of the United States he is no concern of ours."

Mr. Truman, reading to the convocation on the Fordham campus a "last (Continued on Eighth Page)

WINTER DROP IN MEAT PREDICTED

Anderson Asks Farmers To Produce 10 Per Cent Fewer Pigs

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—Chester Bowles predicted today there will be more meat on dinner tables during the next few months, but that the pinch really is going to be felt next winter and spring.

Meat supplies will increase and then decline as the result of sharp grain price hikes which have been authorized in the hope of meeting famine relief commitments, the stabilization director said in an address over the American Broadcasting network.

Citing agriculture department figures, Bowles said that during the first four months of this year the United States fell short of its grain shipment promises by 27,450,000 bushels.

"I don't know how many people have died," Bowles said, "because that grain wasn't shipped. But that 27,450,000 bushels we failed to send is on my conscience, as I know it is on yours."

He added that problem was "to strike a balance—to do what we could to guarantee good meat supplies at home, without failing the millions overseas who are asking only for bread." The only solution, he continued, "was for the government to raise the ceiling prices of all grain feeds."

The increases, ranging from 25 cents a bushel for corn to five cents a bushel for oats, became effective next Monday.

"It's going to mean," Bowles stated, "that you'll get along with a little (Continued on Eighth Page)

MONROE STORES TO CLOSE AT 6 O'CLOCK

Stores in Monroe will close at 5 p. m. on week days and 6 p. m. on Saturdays, it was announced yesterday by Claude Holley, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Division. These hours were unanimously adopted by the merchants committee after polling all merchants, and represented a compromise between those who wanted a one-half holiday on Thursdays and those who opposed it.

The public is requested to take due notice of this change in store hours, and to govern their shopping accordingly.

DOUBLE 13 WILL HIT LEGISLATORS

Solons Will Face Controversial Issues As Session Opens Monday

BATON ROUGE, La., May 11.—(P)—Louisiana's legislature convenes at noon Monday, May 13, in its 13th regular session already faced with controversial issues bound to bring some advocates or opponents "double 13—bad luck."

Three issues alone appear to be obvious threats to the "peace and harmony" Gov. Jimmie Davis was able to obtain from his first, or "honeymoon" session in 1944.

One, by Rep. Bill Dodd of Oakdale, would call a constitutional amendment election to make the office of state education superintendent appointive by an all-elected education board, rather than elected. The same proposal in 1944 resulted in near-fights.

Another, proposed by Rep. W. J. Cleveland of Crowley, would ban closed shop contracts in Louisiana and prevent payment of unemployment benefits to strikers—both ideas probably due for fiery support and attack. Modeled after a Florida law, it also would be in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment.

A third—and several others with it closely for the place—is a suggestion by the state school superintendent and several educational groups that the one per cent sales tax be doubled and all proceeds allotted to education. Other educational groups already have indicated opposition.

Still on the controversial but uncertain list is a proposal to hike the natural gas gathering tax, already under intense fire by some gas and industrial groups, but already supported (Continued on Eighth Page)

ARMED SERVICES IN ROCKET CONTEST

WHITE SANDS, N. M., May 11.—(P)—A behind-the-scenes contest involving army, navy and air forces for control of development of long range rockets as a weapon of the future was suggested by top officials today at the start of a series of spectacular tests with German V-2 missiles.

Although the army described the current tests at White Sands proving ground as a joint venture of the three primary services, Maj. Gen. Curtis LeMay told a reporter "there is no real coordination short of the president" and "no clear definition of responsibility between the air and ground forces."

LeMay is deputy chief of the army air forces air staff in charge of research and development.

Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blundy, commander of the task force carrying out this summer's atom bomb test, acknowledged that as the range of rockets was increased from hundreds to possibly thousands of miles there might be difficulty in reconciling control of such weapons between land, sea and air forces.

He suggested, however, that some competitive research might speed rather than hinder progress.

Blundy said the navy's concern embraced ship to shore, as well as ship to ship, and ship to air rockets.

Meanwhile, the army ordnance department, which is an element of the ground forces, has effective control of the V-2 tests as part of an announced program of developing long range rockets of giant size and even greater supersonic speed.

FREIGHT RATE RAISE IS HIT

Traffic Bureau Files Protest With Interstate Commerce Commission

The Monroe Traffic Bureau today filed its general manager and traffic manager, J. W. Scrimshire and L. M. Shephardson, respectively, calls public attention to the fact that the railroad industry has petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase freight rates and charges 25 per cent and to continue in effect the increase of 10 per cent in basic passenger fares and charges which became effective February 10, 1942.

Mr. Scrimshire states that ever since the petition was filed, and which asks that it take effect May 15, 1946, on one day's notice to the shipping public and in advance of any investigation by the commission, that the business men of not only the Twin Cities, but also of the entire nation, have displayed a vital interest in the freight rates being charged today in view of general governmental price control, for it is believed that an increase may be disastrous to many individual industries or branches of business and seriously burdensome to others.

In an effort to forestall any rate adjustment until the true facts are ascertained, the bureau here has filed a reply to the petition of the railroad with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This petition is as follows: Petition of Railroads for Authority to Increase Freight Rates and Charges and to Maintain Present Passenger Fares and Charges. Docket No. Ex Parte 162.

Reply by the Monroe Traffic Bureau.

Now comes the Monroe Traffic Bureau and respectfully and earnestly urges the honorable Interstate Commerce Commission to deny the request of the railroads that the proposed increase be granted.

The testimony opened at a night session called Thursday night by Judge David I. Garrett, who presided. Testimony continued to be given until Friday night, when the defense and state concluded their testimony.

The morning session opened Saturday with the attorney's arguments. The jury then deliberated and returned with a decision of not guilty.

CONDEMNED NEGRO WILLS HIS EYES

NEW IBERIA, La., May 11.—(P)—Willie Francis, 18-year-old Negro whose life was prolonged when the electric chair in which he was strapped failed to function last week, has willed his eyes to a blind man in Dallas, Texas, Francis' attorney said today.

The lawyer, Bertrand DeBlanc of St. Martinville, La., said Francis had acceded to a request by Mrs. Wilmer Cox of Dallas, that he leave his eyes to her brother, Rufus Allen, in the event the state carries out the death sentence.

Francis has been granted a reprieve until June 1 while the state supreme court considers his case. Two applications in his behalf are pending, one to free him and one for a commutation of the death sentence imposed for the killing of a druggist, Francis was brought here from St. Martinville, scene of the execution attempt, for safekeeping.

DeBlanc said Francis had written a will, declaring, "I want to atone for my life," bequeathing his eyes to Allen and adding, "I have no other things left to will . . . if it is God's will I should be electrocuted again."

DeBlanc said answers were being sent to scores of persons who wrote Francis expressing interest in his case. The writers are being asked to communicate with the attorney or the pardon board, he said.

AIRBASE POOL IN AMERICAS SOUGHT

Revealed As Feature Of Master Plan For Hemisphere Defense

OUTER RING WOULD BE SET UP TO GUARD AGAINST FOE

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(P)—A common pool of airbases throughout the Americas for military use of all their 21 nations was disclosed today as the main feature of a master plan for western hemisphere defenses.

Existing civil air bases, which already span the two continents, and military and naval bases would be pooled for use of all American nations in the event of an attack by an outside enemy.

The plan was drafted by the inter-American defense board, a wartime agency composed of military representatives of western hemisphere countries. Its details are outlined in a report which became available today for the first time. They are based primarily on a wide outer ring of defenses in order to meet an enemy "as far as possible" from the western hemisphere.

Should an enemy penetrate the outer ring, the plan calls for an immediate coastal defense to throw back or hold the enemy until reserves can be brought up.

It is this second plan in which the common air defense figures, as well as a combined use of navies, ground forces and overland transport.

The overall strategy was approved by the defense board last November in the form of a confidential report dealing with proposals for inter-American military co-operation which has since been submitted to the 21 American nations for their study and action.

Military men said the plan formed the basis for President Truman's recent proposal for military standardization in this hemisphere.

The plan is primarily the same in outline as the one being developed by the United States for its own protection, and actually dovetails with it.

The act of Chapultepec requires all American republics to go immediately to the assistance of any of its members in the event of an invasion.

Military men familiar with the details of the plan said the Atlantic line of outer defense runs roughly from Iceland, through England, the Azores, the Canary Islands to the Falkland Islands.

The Pacific line begins in the Aleutians and would run roughly through the Marianas Islands, the Caroline Islands, thence to the Manus Islands.

During his own marriage, he went on, they had two children, Judy Ann, 2, and Margaret Kay, 13 months.

When he returned from work April 18, Gilbert's statement continued, he found the baby beaten black and blue by Mrs. Gilbert.

This angered him, he said, and he remonstrated with her for this and for her previous abuse of all the children, including Karen.

The evening of April 19, he said, he took the family for a ride in the car, stopping at a lonely spot on M-213 near a cabin he had once lived in. He raised the hood of the car and asked his wife to hand him a flashlight.

As she left the car, Gilbert said he struck her with a crank handle. She fell senselessly to the ground.

Karen, in the front seat, began to cry.

"I picked her up and made her stand on the ground. She was crying. I hit her on the back of the (Continued on Eighth Page)

IRISHMAN EXPIRES IN HUNGER STRIKE

DUBLIN, May 11.—(P)—John McCaughey, 32, tight-lipped former Irish Republican army "adjutant general" died in his cell at Dublin's Maryboro prison early today after a 23-day hunger strike which caused political agitation throughout Eire.

In Belfast, David Fleming, another imprisoned I. R. A. hunger striker, was reported in a "weak condition" as he fast entered his 50th day, but Dr. Fred McCoskey, a Nationalist member of parliament, who visited Fleming yesterday, said he showed surprising vitality and probably would live "for many, many days yet."

McCaughey, whose brother and four sisters were with him when he died, apparently kept silent to the end. He had refused to defend himself when a special Dublin military court sentenced him to death in 1941 for kidnapping and illegally assaulting another IRA leader, Stephen Hayes.

The death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment following a nationwide appeal for clemency.

His case had become a national issue and in the past three weeks, numerous Dublin mass meetings demanded him release. Thursday night mounted police broke up what they termed an "attempted attack" on Eire President Sean T. O'Kelly by 380 angry demonstrators.

Similar demonstrations were held in Belfast, Northern Ireland, on Fleming's behalf. Fleming has taken only vitamin tablets and orange juice "to prevent scurvy" in his 49-day fast.

Both the Eire and North Ireland governments announced they would not consider the release of the two men.

Railway Freight Embargo Lifted

Mine Owners and Lewis Meet in Effort to Reach Settlement President Truman Requested by Wednesday

By Harold W. Ward

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The government today ordered the railroad freight embargo lifted Monday but slapped controls on the entire soft coal output expected during the strike "truce."

The action covers "captive" mines as well as others and may withhold coal from industry immediately. But it provides the government with an expected 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 tons of coal for emergency users without resorting to seizure of the pits.

John L. Lewis and the mine owners met, meanwhile, in what Edward F. McGrady, federal conciliator, called "a very friendly, very cooperative atmosphere" to seek the settlement President Truman requested by Wednesday.

After morning and afternoon sessions which brought no specific word of progress the conferees adjourned until 10 a. m. (C. S. T.) tomorrow. The stumbling block appeared to be Lewis' demand for $3,000,000 in back holiday pay.

John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association, who was not among the conferees, issued a statement saying that "the coal mine owners made offers to the union leaders weeks ago that should have prevented a work stoppage, and they renewed their offers many times." He declared that Lewis' truce offer "further demonstrates his control over the nation's coal supply."

On the political front, Senator Mitchell, Democrat, Washington, reported appeals from C. I. O. locals that the anti-poll tax bill be placed in the way of labor legislation which the Senate will consider Monday. Such strategy could be expected to provoke long debate, if not a filibuster.

With miners generally ready to go back to work Monday morning except in several scattered locals, officials not only took control of the coal to be mined during the two-week truce but called for continued dimouts and other electric power conservation measures in view of the still deadlocked contract negotiations.

Secretary of the Interior Krug, who heads the Solid Fuels Administration, said in a statement that the need for rigid regulation of coal distribution is as necessary now "as it was at the beginning of the strike." He added that the SFA "intends to continue control of coal distribution as long as there is any danger that essential public services and industry may be forced to suspend because they lack coal."

The nationwide freight embargo which took effect Thursday will end Monday.

The 25 per cent reduction in passenger travel on coal-burning trains is being kept in force for the present. An additional 25 per cent cut slated to start Wednesday, however, was called off.

Dimouts and other state and local measures to save electric power are to be continued. The Civilian Production Administration, after a conference with other government agencies, announced that these steps should go on "with full vigor until final settlement of coal negotiations and complete resumption of coal mining operations."

The agency also decided to keep in force the order requiring the rationing of manufactured and mixed gas when utility coal stocks fall below three weeks' supply, and the requirement that electric companies pool their power resources as in wartime.

State utility commissions were advised it might be possible to lift (Continued on Eighth Page)

61 CONVICTED IN CAMP MURDER MILL

DACHAU, Germany, May 11.—(P)—A U. S. military court today convicted 61 defendants of killing and torturing thousands of prisoners in the Mauthausen concentration camp murder mill and set Monday for sentencing.

The defendants, mostly members of the German SS, were responsible for 70,000 deaths at the camp and "the clock would be turned back 1,000 years if the court condones these atrocities," the prosecutor, Lt. Col. William Denson, declared in his summation.

The court deliberated one hour after a trial lasting six weeks. Many former prisoners testified about the murder of inmates by gassing, shooting, starvation and torture. Some persons were thrown into the crematory while still living, one witness said.

Associated Press Correspondent Joseph Morton, captured while accompanying an Allied mission into Slovakia, was one of those put to death in Mauthausen.

Denson had urged the conviction of every defendant as being "part of a design to beat and kill prisoners," regardless of whether each was proved to have murdered an individual.

A chief defendant was August Eigruber, former Nazi gauleiter of Upper Austria, who was charged with a leading role in establishment of the camp near Linz, Austria.

Similar demonstrations were held in Belfast, Northern Ireland, on Fleming's behalf. Fleming has taken only vitamin tablets and orange juice "to prevent scurvy" in his 49-day fast.

Both the Eire and North Ireland governments announced they would not consider the release of the two men.

FIRST HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB IN U. S. FORMED HERE

Mrs. J. B. Filhiol Pioneer President; Has Led Logtown Group 30 Years

BLAZED TRAIL

Mrs. J. B. Filhiol (above) with a group in Logtown back in 1909 started the Priscilla Sewing Circle which in 1914 became the Logtown Home Demonstration Club, said to be the first of its kind in the country. With the exception of one year, she has been president of this club to the present time. A junior club was formed at Bosco in 1938 and also a Negro demonstration club, both largely through her efforts. She has been regarded as the outstanding leader in home demonstration activities in Ouachita parish through the years and has received frequent and well deserved honors for her productive efforts.

The little community of Logtown in Ouachita parish has claim to nationwide fame in that the first Home Demonstration Club in the country was started here in 1914. It succeeded the Priscilla Sewing Circle which was established there in 1909. With the exception of one year, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol has served as president continuously ever since the club was established.

In the fall of 1909, the women of the Logtown community met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Filhiol and organized the Priscilla Sewing Circle which proved to be a very successful and enjoyable organization as well as a little social feature for the community.

The Logtown community at that time consisted of only a few families; three of the six charter members still belong to the club. The first president of the little club was Mrs. Ida Williams. The Priscilla Club continued until the fall of 1914 when the Home Demonstration agent began organizing Home Demonstration clubs. Miss Mamie Fuller, the agent at that time met with the ladies of the Logtown community at the home of Mrs. Filhiol and the Priscilla Club was changed to Logtown Demonstration Club. Miss Miller's first project was the canning of vegetables and fruits in tin cans. The equipment consisted of soldering irons, a tin tub, and an outdoor furnace. Miss Miller's work was back in the horse and buggy days which was her way of transportation over the entire parish. Miss Miller gave about five years of her work, love, and influence to this parish. The community, now, has grown from a village to a little town due to the building of the Boeuf River Lumber Company. Miss Miller was succeeded by Miss Amy Holmes, who spent just a short time here. Miss Buie succeeded Miss Holmes, who did work with the children of the community, now called the 4-H work. Miss Buie was succeeded by Mrs. McQuiller, who is still the same faithful agent. The home demonstration agent has accomplished many new things in the last four years in Ouachita parish. The Logtown Club has ended thirty years of service under the able leadership of our president, Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, who has never tired and always wanted the club to be the leader. The year of 1938 has been the happiest of all years to the modest Mrs. Filhiol who with Mrs. McQuiller's assistance has organized a Junior Club at Bosco and a demonstration club among the Negroes. This Negro club has changed many cabins into homes. Many unsightly yards to flower gardens. They have raised funds, purchased their own canner and sealer and have canning days.

The Logtown club sponsored a sewing circle for unfortunate children who need clothes for school, some are new, some are old dresses made over.

The club sponsored trips to Baton Rouge each year for the short course. The membership today is about thirty. The club celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary with a barbecue.

The club has sponsored a trip to Lafayette, Ind., to the national council convention, a trip to Tyler, Tex., to the Rose Festival, also a trip to the council meeting at Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Filhiol has been continuously president of the club since 1914 when it was organized with the exception of one year when the office was held by Mrs. Neal McHenry. This was the first Home Demonstration Club ever organized in the United States.

In recognition of National Home Demonstration Week, the Swartz Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. T. G. Johnson for a demonstration by Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller on preparing fruits and vegetables for freezer locker.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. T. G. Johnson had this to say: "In speaking for myself, I think I express the opinion of all the women of my community. Since home demonstration work was started, we are new women. I have been taught better home management, to appreciate our homes and our fellow-members. We are more interested in government, better school, religious affairs, and best of all the development in leadership which has meant a great deal to our community."

Mrs. D. W. Willis said: "I truly say that I am a better buyer; my home is better planned and equipped and my family better fed, happier and more capable of taking their place in life because of home demonstration work."

Mrs. George Spier had this to say: "I know that my family is more content and happier because of the knowledge and experience I have gained from leader training meeting, home demonstration meetings; and last, but not least my personal contact with one who is especially trained and willing to help me, the home demonstration agent. I have but to call by her office, meet her on the street, or address a post card to her and I receive personal attention and the information I wanted."

Mrs. Charles Williams expressed herself this way: "The new ideas passed on to us from our home demonstration agent acts as a regular blood transfusion, bringing new life and interest to us."

MONROE WOMEN VISIT FT. WORTH

Mrs. Hunnicutt, Mrs. Thomason, Attend Pythian Grand Lodge Meet

Mrs. L. J. Hunnicutt, most excellent and past chief, and Mrs. Mabel Thomason, excellent senior of Monroe Temple No. 1, attended the Texas Grand Lodge convention of the Knights of Pythias and Grand Lodge Pythian Sisters of the 73 annual session at Fort Worth. The meeting convened on Monday, May 6, and ended on Wednesday, May 8. Over 800 delegates from the two lodges throughout the state attended. The memorial services for the dead of the two orders were held Tuesday night in the crystal ballroom of the Texas hotel with an overflowing crowd attending. The service was dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Jenny Howard of El Paso, grand musician of the order and Dr. G. H. Ater, past grand chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias of Texas. Dr. Ater visited Monroe on October 19, 1945 in the official capacity of Imperial Basha of the D. O. K. K.

The Grand Temple degree was conferred upon Mrs. Hunnicutt. Mrs. Hunnicutt and Mrs. Thomason received the Nomad degree, the Woman's Auxiliary of the D. O. K. K. They are members of the Houston, Tex., temple.

On Wednesday, May 8, a large delegation visited the Pythian home for aged Pythians and the children of deceased Pythians. The visit was very inspiring and there was a chance to see what Pythians are doing for their members and dependents. The home is located at Weatherford, Tex., 40 miles west of Fort Worth.

The two orders are creating a memorial fund of $10,000.00 for the upkeep of this fine home. This memorial fund is in memory of Dr. G. H. Ater. On the return trip Mrs. Hunnicutt and Mrs. Thomason attended the temple session of Shreveport Temple No. 2 and officers were elected and installed.

Old Thoughts, New Weapons

It is bad enough to have the terrible but indefinite assurance that the next war, if and when, will be fought with rocket weapons traveling at unheard-of speed. But it is something else to learn that our Army today could build a giant rocket with an atomic warhead capable of being fired with reasonable accuracy at any target on the face of the earth.

Potentially, then, the age of rocket warfare is here. And there is little reason to think that other major powers are far behind us in these developments, if indeed they are lagging at all.

True, we have a temporary monopoly of atomic weapons, but the rocket is free game. Britain already is at work on a large national center for aeronautical research. The last time Americans were permitted to see Russia's research installations, in 1938, planning was "on a much larger scale" than ours, according to a spokesman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. It is unlikely that Russia has been standing still.

Thus the international armament race continues, if only in the laboratory stage today. Meanwhile the nations talk of peace, even though they delay appointing members to the international body for controlling the use of atomic energy. Meanwhile the American government searches the country's caves where factories and workers may be safely hidden in case of war.

The actuality and threatened imminence of this new type of war seems to have had little effect on the minds of men whose duty it is to prevent the occurrence of such a war. The Big Four foreign ministers still wrangle over bases, territories and trusteeships which, while not made meaningless by new weapons, are at least greatly reduced in importance.

Britain may feel that the British lives sacrificed to drive the enemy out of Africa give her a just claim to Italian territory there. Russia may feel the same way about eastern Germany, and the United States may have the same feeling about the former Jap-held islands in the Pacific.

But do these territories now have enough military importance to justify the tension which their disposition has created? Another war might well be fought from the heart of opposing homelands with projectiles that circle the globe at perhaps ten times the speed of sound.

The soldiers who died to liberate these disputed lands would be better honored by an agreement to turn them over to United Nations trusteeship. The United States has proposed this in the case of Italy's African colonies, but old ways of thinking have thus far prevailed. Now realism as well as justice would seem to make it worth while to press more earnestly for such a solution, in Africa and elsewhere.

It might develop, of course, that Britain and Russia want outlying bases primarily for political rather than military reasons. American efforts to put them under UN authority might be rebuffed, just as Mr. Byrnes' proposal for a disarmed Germany has been rebuffed, and for the same apparent cause.

In that case, this country would at least be on record as having led the way toward a reasonable solution, and as conforming with the obvious intent of the United Nations Charter. Such a position might, in the end, turn out to be more than a consolation prize.

BAD SETTING FOR A TANTRUM

Fiorello LaGuardia has really pitched in and started things moving since he took over as director general of UNRRA. But besides bringing to his new job the dynamic energy which he displayed as mayor of New York, he seems also to have retained some of the less winning qualities of temperament which also marked his long term in office.

For instance, he recently warned a congressman, during a broadcast, that this legislator and his colleagues must appropriate $600,000,000 to UNRRA "graciously." He threatened to quit "if there is any haggling, any bitterness, any controversy or bad taste over this appropriation."

Surely if there is any lack of congressional graciousness over this appropriation, it will not be directed at Mr. LaGuardia personally. And even more surely, Mr. LaGuardia's rather petty offer to resign if the tons of congressional debate did not please him will neither frighten Congress nor solve any difficulties that may be encountered in the UNRRA matter.

Mr. LaGuardia cannot overestimate the importance of the tremendous and fateful job which he has tackled, and which he has seemed to do so well up to now. He can vastly overestimate his personal importance in that job.

The $600,000,000 which Mr. LaGuardia asks for UNRRA is intended to buy food for starving people. They do not care whether the money is appropriated with bad taste or good. They only want the food which the money will buy. Getting that food to them is a task which Mr. LaGuardia has bravely undertaken. We hope he will not permit the picaresque conditions which he laid down to turn him from that task.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN MISSOURI

The St. Louis Star-Times polled a cross-section of Missourians for their opinion of President Truman's first year in office, and discovered, among other things, that 71 per cent of the president's home-staters think that he has been wrong in picking so many Missourians for federal office.

This will undoubtedly move some cynic to express surprise that only 29 per cent of Missouri's families have representatives on the government payroll.

HOLLYWOOD, May 11.—Howard Hughes is making a house-to-house canvass of Los Angeles, to determine public reaction to his much criticized "Outlaw" ads. . . . Despite all the pother about Helmut Dantine's "romances" with well-known glamour girls, his current heart is a non-pro, employed in a Hollywood dress shop. . . . Had Gertrude Neisen, forced by previous commitments to mix a $10,000-a-week engagement in a Rio de Janeiro night club, will vacation there at her own expense. . . . Anna May Wong, outstanding for her war work, is having difficulty buying a Hollywood home because of the racial restrictions.

Time out for Ida Lupino, bedded by a strep throat. . . . I hear Greta Garbo is talking to architects about a $200,000 house in New York; she wants to live there permanently. . . . Watch for Sonja Henie to loose a torrid blast against Norwegian critics who panned her "neutrality" during the war. . . . Two hearts that beat as one: Lon McCallister and Ann Blythe. . . . Polly Chase, daughter of the late comedy star, Charlie Chase, is a hit in this year's Ramona pageant at San Jacinto, Calif., and may be headed for a screen career.

Wotzis about New York comic, Lennie Kent, threatening to sue Danny Kaye and Samuel Goldwyn? He claims material used in Kaye's pictures was lifted from his routines. . . . Singer Georges Metaxa is hospitalized with a heart attack. . . . Hummel Margaret O'Brien is telling interviewers that she'll be an animal trainer when she grows up.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: 20th Century-Fox's "Cluny Brown" (Charles Boyer-Jennifer Jones-Peter Lawford) Sophisticated satire that will win laurels for all concerned. . . . Recommended: MGM's "Boys Ranch" ("Buck" Jenkins-James Craig-Skippy Homer). Yields a big crop of rip entertainment. . . . Good: Warner Brothers' "A Stolen Life" (Bette Davis-Glenn Ford-Dane Clark). A Bette Davis tear jerker that's long on emotional appeal but short on logic. . . . 20th Century-Fox's "Somewhere In The Night" (John Hodiak-Nancy Guild-Lloyd Nolan). Mile-a-minute thriller fare. . . . Fair: Columbia's "Mystery Intruder" (Richard Dix-Barton MacLane-Nina Vale). Suspenseful enough that you won't mind the intrusion. . . . Best Performance: Jennifer Jones in "Cluny Brown." Another professional bull's eye for a girl who seldom misses.

One of the most amazing war-time developments in Hollywood has been

BY HENRY McLEMORE

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—General Vandegrift, quit your worrying. Fret no more. Perhaps you were right when you said the war department was "terminated" to reduce the marine corps to a position of studied military ineffectiveness, and that "the army sought to relegate it to ceremonial functions, small combat formations, and labor troops."

Perhaps the war department has such notions in its head, but it won't succeed. It hasn't a prayer. The war department might just as well try to put over a program that calls for the filling-in of the Grand Canyon, the refusal to allow citizens to look at Niagara Falls, or something else that would spoil one of our natural wonders.

The marine corps, general, is one of our natural wonders. How well you know that. How well every citizen of the United States knows that. There is nothing more magnificent than courage, and the marine corps has courage in abundance. There is nothing more stirring than the sight of a man ready to give his all for his country, and the marine corps is made up of such men.

Speaking as an infantryman, nothing was more inspirational to the fighting men of this country in their battle against Japan and Germany than the record, past and present, of the United States marine corps. All of us who didn't belong to the marines—infinifrymen, engineers, sailors, seaboys and what not—drew strength and willingness to do a little better than our best from the men who are called Leathernecks.

That builds morale, General Vandegrift. It builds it more than all the moving pictures ever shown, all the USO shows that ever danced and pranced, all the free shaving cream and razor blades passed out for free.

What war department—and you can name your land—would by any action the phenomenal increase in story prices. Today it's routine for a writer to harvest $100,000 from the screen rights of his novel or play. Prices of $200,000 or more are common only when they are padded with fat percentages that allow the writer to share heavily in the profits of the picture. And the trend is still upward, for Hollywood's scribes, having tasted blood, are increasing their demands. While I'm delighted to see them prosper (I've always held that their contributions to the picture industry are more valuable than those of the stars), I'm beginning to wonder if they aren't kiting their prices too high. It's significant that all the big producers are now combing libraries for stories written so long ago that they are no longer protected by copyright.

Columnist Ed Durling, on what authority I can't imagine, reported the other day that "when the children are all girls, it indicates the father is a great lover." Being the kind of guy who likes to make people happy, I clipped the paragraph and mailed it to Eddie Cantor. I had intended to inclose with it a few kidding remarks, intended to cast aspersions on Durling's accuracy. On second thought, I refrained. Cantor has been happily married for 30-odd years to just one wife, whereas most of the fellows we commonly regard as "great lovers" are forever being divorced by their disgruntled mates. Maybe Durling is right, after all.

Next spring, as usual, there will be much ado in Hollywood over the presentation of a golden "Oscar" to some outstanding actress. The movie industry's publicity machine, the greatest the world has ever known, will hail the recipient as the "First Lady of Hollywood." But no matter how great her publicity, she'll have a hard time outlasting a singer named Frances Langford—who probably will never own an "Oscar"—from the "First Lady" status that she has won for herself in the hearts of the wounded veterans in Uncle Sam's hospitals. Miss Langford's forthcoming appearance before Congress (in support of the bill which she sponsored to increase the pensions for wounded men) will be the most outstanding performance by any Hollywood actress in 1946.

It's said that Betty Hutton starts novels in the middle so she can not only wonder how they're going to end but also how they began. After watching some of her dances, I can believe it.

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The food campaign is running into ever-deepening difficulties.

The sweeping publicity campaign to induce Americans to save for the hungry in the rest of the world ceased the moment the coal strike became serious, but only temporarily. There was no use considering food saving when a fuel tie-up and transportation curtailment threatened spoils of indefinite proportions. But the tenor of the campaign had made everyone believe that the problem of alleviating world hunger was simply dependent upon a resolution by the American people to eat less.

Any objective investigation will prove these following greater facts to the contrary:

a. No matter what our savings, we will not be able to give the world the bulk of foods we have promised. b. We have moved so late that we are not simply taking food from our tables, but have become involved in promises which will cause a fast and sharp decline in our own food production.

c. For this year, and possibly two or three, we will get less meat, butter and cheese than in the war years of rationing and our diets will be changed to cereals, vegetables and fruits which should be available in sufficient quantities to stave off widespread hunger here.

The need of many sections of the world for food has now been established beyond question, although the earlier whooping-up campaign contained much hokum about non-existent needs. An army news resume currently quotes Brigadier General Fisher of our occupation forces as saying the German farms are the most prosperous in the world today. Another similar report of equal authority says there are no starving Bavarians. The British ministry has announced sufficient stores of food in that nation to meet rationing quotas in all lines, even butter and cheese which are practically non-existent in white markets here.

The European shortages are largely in the Russian occupied areas plus Italy, and Greece, and some parts of France. The two ships diverted from England by Headman La Guardia of UNRRA, went to Russian occupied zones. Yet the need in actual hunger areas is real. So is it also on the other side of the world, India, China, and the Philippines.

To meet these needs we have entered upon a complete upsetting of our own economy to the point of promoting further reduced production, particularly of livestock, all forms of animal foods, poultry, hogs, sheep, dairy and beef cattle. Our beef cattle population, which last year numbered 82,900,000 has run below 80,000,000 and is going down fast. On a pre-war ratio to population, we should have over 100,000,000 beef cattle. The pig crop has been limited to 31,000,000 which is about three fourths of what could be considered normal.

These curtailments were forced because wheat and corn feed stocks have been cut in order to send them to the rest of the world. In short, by sending feed abroad we can do no more than produce three-fourths our usual number of pigs. A government order denies chicken feed to any poultry raiser having more than 80 per cent of the number of chickens he had last year. This will force a 20 per cent reduction in poultry population. While there are no particular restrictions on beef cattle feed, it cannot be purchased, and unless the farmer has corn, oats and hay, he must sell his cattle. Similarly, the government is promoting the sale of hogs, at lighter weights than usual, which will decrease production further.

If you are plump with full hips, wear interesting shoulder details and fly or buttoned front dresses.

Where we go from here is a problem of many "ifs." If we do not undertake a world food export program another year, we may restore normal livestock supplies in two or three years. Only poultry and pigs can be restored in less time, and pigs require about nine months. If we have a good crop, our own food situation will be no worse than related above, but the optimistic government expectations on the wheat crop are already running into doubt. Officially they talk of more than a billion bushels, but the local moisture situation has indicated the winter wheat crop will not justify any such guess on the year as a whole and the spring wheat crop is still undermature.

You might ask why the government does not promote expansion of production. It got aroused about food a little too late for that. To feed abroad there is nothing to be done now except to curtail domestic consumption, and enter the country largely upon a fruit and vegetable diet for an indefinite period.

NEGRO IS INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

J. W. Simpson, 712 South Second street, suffered cuts on his head and hand and bruises about the body Friday at 4:50 p. m. in the 2500 block of DeSiard street, according to a report at police headquarters, Saturday, when hit by an auto.

Will Brown, 47, Negro, 803 McKenry's Alley, said to be the driver of the car that struck Simpson, told police that he was traveling east on DeSiard street in the 2500 block, and that Simpson got out of a car and started across the street. Simpson walked in front of Brown's car, the latter said, and he stepped on the brakes and turned to the left to miss him. Brown said that Simpson then turned and ran back in front of his car.

JUDGE'S BLOOD SAVES PRISONER

Self-Wounded Man Leaves Hospital For Rest Before Entering Jail

Strengthened by a pint of the blood of the judge who had sentenced him to serve 155 days for a wide assortment of misdemeanors and felonies, Clarence Jones, 43, was reported Saturday to be recovering from wrist wounds he inflicted on himself in the West Monroe city jail a week ago last Friday.

When he was discharged from St. Francis Sanitarium Thursday to be permitted to rest for a few days at the home of a brother before beginning his sentence in the parish jail, it was said severed tendons had been stitched together and he probably would regain use of his hands.

The blood-giving magistrate was Jesse Heard, judge of the West Monroe city court, who imposed the long sentence when Jones, a frequent offender, was arraigned on charges of drunkenness, disorderly conduct, fighting, disturbing the peace, drawing and displaying a dangerous weapon, breaking and entering in the night time and indecent exposure.

Jones was awaiting transfer to the parish prison when he slashed both wrists with a safety razor blade, and was in a semi-conscious condition when he was taken to the hospital. Later that afternoon Judge Heard and Mayor D. C. Golsen called at the hospital to inquire as to his condition and, when told that the man must have a blood transfusion immediately, the judge volunteered and was typed and accepted as the donor.

PLAN MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES

Observance Will Feature Commander J. T. O'Callahan Speaker

Plans for the Memorial day observance being arranged by the Ouachita Parish Veterans Council for May 26 are in their final stage.

The observance, which will feature Com. Joseph T. O'Callahan, heroic navy chaplain, as the speaker of the occasion, will take place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Northeast Junior College's Brown stadium here.

Commander O'Callahan will speak from a platform to be erected on the stadium's football field.

Homer Ross, member of the veterans council and commander of the West Monroe post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been designated master of ceremonies.

Color guards will be supplied by the recruiting stations here of the army, navy and marine corps.

All northeast Louisiana veterans and their families are invited to attend the observance. A section of seats in the stadium will be reserved for Gold Star mothers.

Commander O'Callahan holds the distinction of being the first military chaplain in the annals of the nation to be awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

He displayed the bravery that won him the decoration on March 19, 1945, when the aircraft carrier Franklin was all but sunk by the Japanese in the final stages of Pacific warfare.

Two direct hits, scored by a dive bomber, turned the ship into a floating inferno.

Although wounded, Commander O'Callahan left his customary battle station on the Franklin's main bridge and promptly undertook to organize damage control parties in a desperate effort to keep the ship afloat.

The scholarly, bespectacled 40-year-old chaplain, first Jesuit priest to enter the naval service, then turned to administering last rites to the dying, to manning fire hose, to comforting the wounded, to organizing fire fighting and rescue parties, and to braving magazines to wet down ammunition and prevent additional explosions. He went below numerous times and brought wounded men topside on his shoulders and kept up a steady stream of encouragement to his shipmates.

Commander O'Callahan had already had battle experience when he joined the Franklin just 17 days prior to its all but being blasted from the ocean. He had participated in the amphibious invasion of French Morocco and the October, 1943, raid on German shipping in Norwegian waters aboard the aircraft carrier Ranger.

On active duty since November, 1940, Commander O'Callahan, in addition to his sea assignments, has served at land stations in Pensacola, Fla., Alameda, Calif., Pearl Harbor, T. H., and Washington, D. C. He is now chaplain aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Commander O'Callahan was born in Boston, Mass., May 14, and entered upon studies for the priesthood immediately upon graduation from high school. He was head of the department of mathematics of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., at the time he entered the naval service.

VETS' BENEFITS ARE OBTAINED

State Department Able To Assist Men Formerly In Service

In a "Time Chart for Veterans" received from another state by the State Department of Veterans' Affairs, twelve things for the veteran or the returned serviceman to do, were listed.

The twelfth item on the list was "Within two years after death, apply to the Veterans Administration for burial benefits."

"Our parish service officers which number sixty now, could be of great assistance to the veteran with the other eleven things to do," Director Darwin said, but we think his services are very nearly indispensable in the latter case.

During the month of April alone, parish service officers assisted families of veterans in obtaining burial allowances for thirty-two veterans, insurance benefits for thirty-three veterans' families, pension upon the death of veterans for fifty-four widows and children, and thirty-six pension claims for dependent parents.

During April, 28,116 office contacts with veterans were made, and 1,788 field contacts were made by our parish service officers. Power of attorney grants to act for the veteran numbered 2,463, with 255 appeals from the decision of the rating board of the Veterans Administration.

More than 8,499 miscellaneous benefits were applied for, with educational applications under the G. I. Bill and Public Law No. 16 totalling 2,152 for the month.

More than 171 veterans applied for compensation for service connected disability, and thirty-nine for non-service connected disabilities, and 227 requests for hospitalization and domiciliary care were made.

Written requests and answers numbered 56,332 for his department for April according to Director Darwin.

TRI-STATE STAMP EXHIBITION HERE

Ouachita Club Will Mark First Anniversary With 3-Day Display

Observing its first anniversary, the Ouachita stamp club will be host at a Tri-State exhibition at Hotel Frances for three days beginning Friday, May 23, with collectors from all over Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas entering displays.

Thomas Truitt, president of the local club, said yesterday 120 collectors are expected to bring exhibits, which will be shown in rooms A and B on the mezzanine floor of the hotel. A banquet will be held there on the night of the second day, with all persons interested in the collection of stamps invited to attend.

Maurice Glazer is vice-president and Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick is secretary-treasurer of the Ouachita club, which was formed in May, 1945, and now has 45 active members.

The club meets at the Frances on the first and third Fridays of each month, holding auctions and viewing the offerings of traveling dealers in stamps.

The cachet or emblem of the club, centered by a picture of President James Monroe, is partly the work of one of the junior members, George Hibbard, who recently volunteered for service in the navy, and Ruben Modorn of the New Orleans Philatelic society. The central design was copied from the ten-cent stamp of the 1922 series to signify the fact that the president on the same day the first steamboat, which bore his name, reached this site. The background shows an Indian on a horse, chasing a buffalo.

BUDDY POPPIES WILL BE SOLD

V. F. W. Post No. 1809 To Stage Tag Day In Monroe

"To honor the dead by helping the living." That's the ultimate purpose of the 25th annual Buddy Poppy distribution, or sale, to be held here May 25 under the sponsorship of Post No. 1809, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Members of that organization, each of whom has served in national conflicts outside the continental limits of the United States and saw his buddies make the supreme sacrifice or become permanently disabled, are honoring those comrades-in-arms by aiding their dependents. Through the nation-wide V. F. W. campaign they also are asking their fellowmen to bestow similar honors through the purchase of the V. F. W. memorial flower, the Buddy Poppy.

Beneficiaries of the campaign for funds which has become a tradition through the last 25 years include the disabled war veterans, the dependents of veterans and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

The entire proceeds from the nationwide Buddy Poppy sale are used exclusively for the welfare and rehabilitation of disabled veterans and in providing aid for their dependents.

Disabled veterans in government hospitals are paid for their labor in fashioning the little red flowers, and one cent for every poppy sold is contributed to the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., where care and a normal home life is given to widows and children of deceased veterans.

Funds from the Buddy Poppy sale also are used to support a national rehabilitation service which indirectly benefits local veterans as well as disabled and needy ones throughout the nation.

THE NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—John L. Lewis wants more safety for his coal miners.

That's one of his demands upon the owners. And the owners are agreed upon the need for efforts to promote safety.

The problem to be worked out is: How? There is no uniform safety law.

From year to year Lewis has about 45,000 of his union members working in the mines. Last year 1,079 were killed and 59,350 injured. Those are government figures.

That was the lowest death-injured total for any year.

Every year for each miner killed about 50 are injured or crippled.

Each of the 28 states which produce coal has its own safety laws and its own inspectors. The laws vary from state to state.

The government's bureau of mines has 157 inspectors who check on the mines but can't enforce their recommendations to correct bad conditions.

Government officials familiar with mine conditions say: In some states the laws and the inspectors are good; in some states neither the laws nor the inspectors are so good.

The bureau of mines has safety standards but on that subject one representative of the owners says:

"We can't put those standards in all the mines. If they conflict with standards set up by state laws, the owner would be violating state law by following the government standards."

He said this in explaining how the standards of mines and state laws vary.

One of Lewis' lieutenants complains that no state has standards good enough to match those of the government.

This is what the government inspectors can do:

They can go in and investigate a mine, make recommendations to the owner for improving safety conditions, tell the union what they've recommended, and even make public their recommendations.

But that's all. They can't compel an owner to put their recommendations into practice.

The states themselves can cooperate with the government's standards and suggestions, or not.

Last December 24 men were killed in a Kentucky mine disaster. Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the bureau of mines, recently told a congressional committee:

"Our man had inspected that mine four different times and very few of our recommendations were placed in effect."

He said the mine where the disaster happened had "very bad conditions."

He said most states are cooperating with the government.

Sayers is asking Congress to give him money for more mine inspectors, saying:

"We cannot possibly get around to all of the coal mines in the United States with these mine inspections as frequently as we would like because we don't have a sufficient number to do the work."

The same Lewis lieutenant mentioned above suggested this as a possible means of imposing uniform safety upon the mines:

Congress should pass a law forbidding coal to be shipped across a state line from any mine which failed to meet federal standards.

All mines then would have to get in line, he said, because they have to ship across state lines to do business.

Meanwhile, Lewis will go to the mat with the owners over higher pay for his miners. He still hasn't said how much he wants.

The pay for miners under the contract which expired before they struck April 1 called for this:

For a 54-hour week—$63.50. It was worked out this way:

Their regular working week is 35 hours. They get $1 an hour for 35 hours and $1.50 for every hour over that.

So, by working a 54-hour week, they'd receive $35 for the first 35 hours and $28.50 for the other 19 hours. Total: $63.50.

11 COLLEGES IN STATE AVAILABLE

The veteran who wants to attend a general college or university in Louisiana next fall will find at least eleven schools offering him this opportunity, according to a report made public this week by Frank Martinez, Jr., regional manager of the Veterans Administration for Louisiana with headquarters in New Orleans.

There will be actually 3059 certain openings for the ex-G. I.'s according to a survey made by the Veterans Administration. Mr. Martinez lists the following schools and the number of veterans they will be able to admit:

Southeastern Louisiana College, 187; Leland College, 40; Southwestern Louisiana Institute, 1,150; Northeast Junior College, 73; Northwestern State College, 370; Baptist Bible Institute, 60; St. Mary's Dominican College, 100; Loyola University, 444; Tulane University, 485; Louisiana College, 50 and Centenary College, 100.

Louisiana State University had not reported at the date the survey was released, said Mr. Martinez, who also stated that only 16 state universities throughout the nation had reported the number of vacancies they would have for veterans this fall. He voiced the opinion, however, that the survey would be of informational value to veterans and to Veterans Administration educational counselors.

BERNICE AREA HAS MASS MEET

Populace Aroused Over Damaged Dam, Spillway Of Corney Lake

BERNICE, La., May 11.—(Special)—The citizens of the recreation area of Corney Lake have become much concerned and aroused by the failure of the spillway in the dam and the resulting drainage and ruin of the lake.

In response to the widely-advertised call lead by Mayor Donald B. Lomax, of Bernice, for a mass meeting to consider and map a course of action for its preservation, a large and representative number of interested citizens from the parishes of Union, Lincoln, Claiborne and other parishes, as well as several from Arkansas, met last Tuesday afternoon at the lake site.

Senator Overton, and Congressmen Brooks, McKenzie and Harris, of Arkansas, had been invited to attend the meeting and all sent telegrams to be read expressing regrets and pledging their support. Present were several top officials of the soil conservation department under whose management the lake is placed.

The meeting was firm in its resolve that no effort should be spared in the fight to preserve the lake and getting the spillway repaired or reconstructed. Believing that a sustained effort likely would be required it was decided that a permanent organization should be formed and to that end a committee was appointed from each of the several towns and communities represented to meet at a later date to effect such organization.

It was pointed out in the meeting that Corney Lake is a prized picnicking, boating, fishing and hunting site. That it cost more than $600,000 in depression times to build and equip, but due to faulty construction of the spillway in the dam all will be lost unless immediate steps are taken for its repair or reconstruction. That it would be an economic disgrace for the citizens to sit idly by and see such a valuable recreation spot that is easily available to more than 125,000 people dissolve into thin air for lack of interest on the part of the appointed and elected officials.

J. M. Talbot, a prominent citizen, businessman and former mayor of Bernice, was selected interim chairman of all committees and when asked for a statement replied: "We must get our permanent organization going as soon as possible and roll our troubles right up to the doors of our senators and congressmen in Washington. I have faith in Senator Overton and Congressman Brooks, McKenzie, and Harris, of Arkansas, in that they will not let us down when so much is at stake."

The critical dilemma of Louisiana's schools, with 174 classrooms without teachers, 3,400 substitute teachers without any qualifications, a loss of 1,800 classroom teachers this year and with less than 150 graduates from all of Louisiana's colleges this year going into the teaching profession, and what must be done about this acute problem by the legislature which meets Monday was seriously considered Friday by the Chamber of Commerce education committee. It was the unanimous opinion of all committee members that additional money with which to pay teachers absolutely had to be provided by our legislature if our schools are to be operated in the future with well qualified teachers.

An additional twelve million dollars is needed to permit raising all teachers salary an average of $200 per year and to meet other pressing school needs, it was stated. How to provide this money was discussed at length. The committee was unanimously opposed to the proposed increase in gas gathering tax from one-half to three cents per thousand cubic feet, because it would too severely penalize Louisiana industry and place Louisiana at a further disadvantage in future industrial development. A majority of the committee favored an additional one per cent sales tax, which would provide twelve million dollars per year for schools.

It also proposed that a one per cent sales tax be added and fifty per cent of it dedicated to increasing teachers salaries and fifty per cent to the highway department to be used for matching federal funds for new highway construction, another critical need for money in the state.

The committee went on record as being in favor of the legislature providing more money for schools, but made no recommendation as to how the money be provided. George Trousdale was appointed by Chairman J. S. Drew to consult with Fred Hudson, a member of the Louisiana revenue code commission, and an outstanding authority on state tax matters, and secure his views as to the best method of providing additional money for our schools. Trousdale will report to another meeting of the education committee next Tuesday and the committee will endeavor to make specific recommendations to the legislature as to how to secure more money for our schools.

Present at the meeting were J. S. Drew, chairman, E. L. Neville, P. M. Troy, Thomas Frazer, P. S. Mulhearn, George Trousdale, W. M. Mitchell and T. H. Scott.

GI RIGHTS BILL TO BE TALKED

Employers To Be Given Full Details At Tuesday Meeting

A full explanation of the apprenticeship and on-the-job training program established for veterans of World War II under the G. I. Bill of Rights will be scheduled for 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the Ouachita parish courthouse.

The meeting will be held under the joint sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe and the Ouachita Parish Veterans Council.

The veterans council is in the midst of a campaign to find jobs for 2,000 unemployed veterans of World War II residing in this locality. It had officially designated Veterans Employment Month in order to focus public attention on the unemployment problem and to advance apprenticeship and on-the-job training as a solution to the situation.

Since the first of the month, the council has been using both press and radio in an effort to familiarize employers with the training program. Its mutual advantages to employers and trainees has been stressed, as well as the opportunities it affords for employer civic service.

After a full discussion of apprenticeship and on-the-job training by H. P. Willis and Rex Smelser, director and coordinator, respectively, of the Ouachita Vocational School in West Monroe, and Oscar L. Cloyd, representative of the state department of labor, the meeting Tuesday night will be thrown open to questions from employers. Certification procedure, training requirements and all other phases of the program will be explained.

The program enables employers to hire unskilled and inexperienced veterans at beginners' wages and train them in a trade or some phase of business. The federal government supplements the pay with educational subsistence allowances, thus assuring trainees an adequate income during the training period.

RAILWAY

"Some of the more severe restrictions placed on industry's use of power in the most acute shortage areas."

Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, admonished the railroads "to use every effort to continue conservation of coal."

From the coal fields came reports that most of the operators are getting ready to re-open for volume production Monday. Two Pennsylvania locals of the United Mine Workers Union with 1,500 members said they would not return to work, noting that their members can begin drawing state unemployment compensation next week.

"We have been out this long and there is no reason to return to work now," said Oliver Pauley, president of the Scalp Level, Pa., local.

Another veteran miner said the union's historic policy of "no contract, no work," would be followed by the miners at Cove Dale, Pa.

One of the two Cambria county, Pa., locals wired Lewis that he was privileged to "throw in the towel . . . but not for us."

Nevertheless a widespread return to work is expected in other areas where agreement is reached on payment of any eventual contract increases retroactive to the date of work resumption. Local unions balloted on the proposal.

WINTER

less meat in the next year or so, but not right away. In the next few months you'll actually get more meat (because) farmers won't be holding their livestock in barns and feeding pens quite as long, and more is bound to come to market soon.

"The pinch is really going to be felt next winter and spring. We aren't going to like it very much. But we would like ourselves a whole lot less if we went on callously, blindly, stuffing our own mouths while we defaulted on our plain obligations to the starving of this earth."

FARMERS ASKED TO REDUCE PIG OUTPUT WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Choosing between meat for this country and grain for starving lands, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson tonight asked farmers to produce 10 per cent fewer pigs next fall than they did a year ago.

The action, he said, is dictated by the fact that grain supplies will not be large enough to continue hog production at present levels and supply famine areas abroad.

It was taken as Stabilization Director Chester Bowles served notice to the public that the meat supply "pinch is really going to be felt next winter and spring." Meat will be more plentiful within the next few months, he reported, but then will become scarcer as a result of higher grain prices authorized in the hope of getting more grain for export.

"We aren't going to like it very much," Bowles said in a broadcast. "But we would like ourselves a whole lot less if we went on callously, blindly, stuffing our own mouths while we defaulted on our plain obligations to the starving of this earth."

A 10-per cent smaller fall pig crop will be reflected in pork supplies moving into meat counters next spring and summer. The reduction in total pork supplies will be considerably more than 10 per cent, however, because the coming fall pigs will be fed to much lighter weights than the 1945 fall pigs.

Anderson set the national fall pig goal at 31,500,000 head. Fall pigs are those farrowed between June 1 and December 1.

creased rates be permitted to take effect on May 15, 1946, in advance of any investigation and as reasons for such denial respectfully show:

1. The Monroe Traffic Bureau, principal office, 316 Ouachita National Bank Building, Monroe, Louisiana, is an organization organized for the purpose of protecting the interests of its members who are receivers and shippers of freight in all matters pertaining to traffic and transportation.

This organization is greatly interested in matters presented by the aforesaid petition of the railroads and desires that the Interstate Commerce Commission shall have every assistance in sound and speedy determination of the questions presented by the aforesaid petition.

2. The aforesaid petition contains general and impressive averments of tremendous increases of operating expenses of the petitioners, including exceedingly great wage increases recently granted, as well as large increases in costs of materials and supplies. There are various other averments with regard to prospective volume of traffic, prospective earnings, insufficient revenues to sustain petitioners and other averments none of which are self-proving and there are grave questions of the direct and indirect effects of the substantial increases proposed by the railroads and conversely the effect of such increases on the shippers and receivers of freight in particular and on the national economy in general and obviously the questions involved are of very grave interest to the government and to the public.

3. There is grave doubt that it would be within the proper discretion of the Interstate Commerce Commission to commit itself to exercise the suspension authority and duty imposed under Section 15(7) of the act.

That because of the gravity and importance to the whole national interest of the questions presented by the petition, there should be fair opportunity for development of the basic facts and discussion of the effect of the increased proposal before such new rates shall become effective even temporarily.

Wherefore, The Monroe Traffic Bureau most earnestly and respectfully urges the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny the extraordinary request contained in the aforesaid petition and that the matter of any increase in rates and charges be assigned for early hearings at such available date as will enable necessary preparation of the petitioners and others to the end that all questions raised be speedily determined; and that the adopted mode of procedure shall enable all interested parties (including the Monroe Traffic Bureau) to participate without formality of intervention in the development of the facts and discussion of the findings and conclusions to be considered or adopted by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

THE MONROE TRAFFIC BUREAU L. M. Shephardson, Practitioner Traffic Manager, The Monroe Traffic Bureau, L. M. Shephardson, Traffic Manager, 316 Ouachita National Bank Building, Monroe, Louisiana, Dated May 1, 1946.

by the state parent-teacher group as a better source for education funds. Proponents see it supported by parish and municipal groups wanting some of the proceeds.

Other indicia issues include proposals to legalize and tax gambling, put all state civil service employees on a retirement plan, increase welfare proportions, provide more money for highways and hospitals, grant a state bonus to veterans and require a driver's license.

Indicating possibilities of a side fight are reports from New Orleans that the new city administration will offer several measures intended to break up chances of so-called machine politics taking over there again, plus a referendum request to legalize gambling in that city.

Just where the Davis administration will stand on these and other issues has not been announced, may be at least somewhat cleared up when the governor addresses a joint session Monday night in a speech scheduled to be broadcast at 8:30.

Legislatures being traditionally unpredictable bodies, even old-timers around the capital are limiting themselves to one mild forecast about the 1946 sessions: That the traditional appropriation to pay mileage and per diem of legislators "probably" will pass both chambers without a dissenting vote.

head. She fell face down. I hit her again."

Gilbert then told of placing the bodies in the depression atop an abandoned well and scooping about two feet of sand over them.

He then re-entered the car, where the two small children slept in the rear seat, stopped at a rural tavern, then returned to Muskegon.

He turned the two children over to relatives who cared for them after the slayings.

State police seized Gilbert after identifying his picture and that of Mrs. Gilbert in the small, square locket found on the body.

The woman and the girl were found Friday, fully clothed, in the sandy grave along the highway about 12 miles northeast of Muskegon when a farmer from the sparsely settled area, James Anscombe, 57, saw the woman's feet protruding.

The prosecutor added that Gilbert has spent seven years in prison at various times on charges of forgery and morals charge.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Assorted stocks resumed the recovery push in today's market although profit cashing on Friday's late bulge put many leaders in the losing column.

Principal buying inspiration still was the two-weeks' coal strike trouble which revived hopes of a final settlement of this controversy. Skeptics were plentiful, however, these being inclined to caution on the idea that the lengthy fuel crisis had already seriously affected second quarter business for widespread corporations.

Dealings slowed after a fast opening. There were subsequent pickups and transfers for the two hours of around 1,000,000 shares were the largest for a similar session in three months. Plus signs, running to 2 or more points, were reduced in a number of cases with losses rather well distributed and near the close.

Bonds were narrow and commodities mixed.

"Let's Go A-Mothering!" That's what they used to say . . . In the days before an official Mother's Day was proclaimed. We've been told that 'way back in the middle eighteen hundreds, in England, it became a custom to visit mothers on the middle Sunday of Lent, taking to them some little gift. They called it "going a-mothering" and soon folks were talking about "Mothering Sunday." Today in our country Mother's Day is nationally observed by legislative edict each on the second Sunday of May. Of course we love our mother every day but May 12 is her special day . . . a special day for us to honor her . . . to say "I love you in the nicest way we know."

Wedding Of Prominence Takes Place At St. Patrick's In Lake Providence

Miss Naomi Hamley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hamley, Lake Providence, La., and Edward Bartley Kitchens Jr., captain, United States army, were united in marriage at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Lake Providence, Sunday afternoon, May 5, at 3 o'clock with Rev. L. R. Aycock officiating.

The altar of the church was decorated in white and green with vases and floor baskets overflowing with gladioli, queen's lace and star jessamine. Seven branched candelabra on white pedestals stood on either side of the prayer bench. Throughout the nave the windows were banked with blue hydrangeas, plumose fern and Magnolia blooms.

Mrs. Berta Pinkston and Mrs. T. E. Pinkston rendered the nuptial music. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Robert Hollander, Clarksdale, Miss., sang "Teach Me To Pray."

The processional and recessional were the traditional wedding marches. Throughout the ceremony the strains of Liebestraum were heard. After the marriage vows the bride and groom with Mr. and Mrs. Hamley and Mrs. Kitchens, witnesses, went with Father Aycock to the sacristy for the signing of the register as Mrs. Hollander sang "Ave Maria."

The bride, a brunette of unusual charm, was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was an original Murry Hamberger in duchesse candle glow satin. The bodice yoke was a marquise with a bertha embroidered in seed pearls in rose design. The sleeves ended in calla lily points over the hands.

Their arm bouquets were Fantasia

Her veil of illusion, which fell beyond the long train, was held in place by a cap of orange blossoms.

From her bridal bouquet of white roses and orchids fell a shower of strophonitis and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Heimea Cohn, Baton Rouge, matron of honor, wore gold net with tight bodice and drop shoulder with deep ruffled bertha. A cascade of ruffles started at the front point of the basque and continued down to several rows around the full skirt that fell over a hoop.

Her bouquet was of yellow tulips, and blue snapdragons dyed to match the blue satin ribbon which fell in a long sash over the skirt.

The bride's charming sisters, Mrs. James Marion Gilfoil, Omega, La., Mrs. Curtis Farlow, St. Joseph, La., and Misses Dorothy and Marie Hamley, Lake Providence, were bride attendants and wore identical models of Madonna blue marquisette over taffeta.

Their voluminous skirts fell in billowy folds from tight-fitted bodices that ended in Van Dyke points both front and back. The off-shoulder necklines were framed with dropped flounces of bias folds. Each wore strands of pearls.

roses, blue snapdragons and yellow asters tied with yellow satin and back-ground with wired angel wings of illusion.

Each wore a calot of natural flowers matching their bouquets.

Mary Agnes Gilfoil served as flower girl for her aunt. She wore a Madonna blue model and carried an old-fashioned round bouquet of mixed flowers.

Captain Erwin Henderson, Greenville, Miss., attended the groom as best man.

Ushers and groomsmen were James M. Gilfoil, Omega, La., Curtis Farlow, St. Joseph, La., Heimea Cohn, Baton Rouge, La., and Vachel Razer, Lake Providence.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The home was florally adorned with native Louisiana Iris. Mrs. J. C. Hamley and Mrs. Clea Kitchens greeted the guests. Mrs. Hamley's gown was grey sheer with yellow print pattern. Her hair straw hat blended with her costume. A corsage of yellow roses and gardenia was worn.

Mrs. Kitchens wore an aqua print model designed with white and fuchsia splashes which matched the roses of her hat and corsage. The bride's table was overlaid with a linen punch work cloth and centered with the bride's cake, a three-tiered confection, surmounted with a miniature bride and groom standing beneath a floral arch.

In charge of the serving in the dining room were Mrs. P. G. Marron, Mrs. John Rodge, and Mrs. Stephen H. Guenard.

Mrs. Kitchens' traveling suit was stratosphere blue Fortman wool. Troponto trimming formed a sunburst design on the jacket. A white lace-trimmed blouse was worn with the white accessories. A corsage of orchids was worn.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Mary Allenbach and Mrs. John B. Williamson, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gilfoil, Miss Eula Gilfoil, Miss Betty K. Gilfoil and Pat and Dorothy Gilfoil, Omega, La.; Mrs. Clea P. Kitchens, Mrs. T. J. Fink, Sr., T. J. Fink, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ged Terry, Ged Terry, Jr., Jo Ann Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Uhl, Mrs. L. A. White, Mrs. Margie Shepherd, Mrs. Broughton Henderson, Captain and Mrs. Erwin Henderson, Master Sam White, Miss Frances White, Mrs. Ivy Belle Alford, all of Greenville, Miss., and Mr. and Mrs. Heimea Cohn, of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Robert Hollander, Clarksdale, Miss.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK IS OBSERVED IN MONROE WITH MANY BEAUTIFUL PROGRAMS

The members of the Music Guild, outstanding federated music club of Monroe, have been busy during the past week with their National Music Week activities. On Tuesday they gave a most enjoyable musical program during the noon luncheon hour of the Lion's Club at the Frances Hotel and on Wednesday, 12 of the members motored over to Rayville to present a delightful hour of music at the meeting of the Lambda Kappa Woman's Club in the home of Mrs. J. Y. Abrough, with Mrs. Hugu Stodghill, assisting hostess. This is the third year that the Music Guild has given a program during National Music Week before this group in Rayville.

The Music Guild is a unique club in that it is both a study and a chorus club. One program a month is devoted to study and performance and the alternate program is given over to chorus practice. This year the study has been "Music of all Nations." Mrs. E. E. Lawson has been president of the group and has led the club through a very successful year. Mrs. Paul Newman will serve as president for the new club year beginning in September. The study for next year will be "Opera"—a book recommended by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. Harry Holmes is the very able chorus director and Mrs. Willys Hopkins is the talented accompanist.

The Music Guild chorus sang for the Choral Festival of the Louisiana Federation of Music Clubs which was held here recently and won hearty acclaim for their performance. They have given radio programs during the year and are asked to sing for many civic and musical programs.

The club will close its year's activities with a barbecue picnic honoring the husbands of the members on Saturday evening, May 9 at the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hill.

The following program was presented by the Music Guild at the Lambda Kappa Woman's Club:

"Great Is Thy Love," Bohm.

Miss Shamblin Is Lovely May Bride

First Methodist Church Is Scene Of Interesting
Wedding Ceremony

One of the lovely May weddings claiming the interest of a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Constance Beatrice Shamblin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shamblin and Mr. George Carl Addison, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Addison. The ceremony took place May 5 at the First Methodist church with the pastor, Dr. A. M. Serex officiating in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Cathedral tapers gleamed in the midst of white gladioli overflowing from tall pedestals placed against a background of Woodwardia ferns. English ivy entwined the chancel rail and choir loft.

While the guests were being seated by the groomsmen, Mr. Gene Willis and Mr. George M. Shamblin, brother of the bride, the organist, Mrs. John Sholars, rendered a brilliant pre-nuptial concert. She also accompanied the soloist, Miss Betty Fehner, who sang in beautiful voice, "Because" and "Ave Marie."

Miss LaDora Shamblin, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor. She wore a pastel blue crepe model fashioned with tight-fitting basques and long, full skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of pale pink gladioli tied with long lengths of pink and blue satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Fannie Humphries and Mrs. Betty Reid, sisters of the bridegroom, wore pastel pink models and carried arm bouquets of white gladioli tied with pink satin ribbon.

Jean Stark and Cecile Shamblin, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. They wore pastel pink and blue models identical with those worn by the bridesmaids. They wore chaplets of pink flowers in their hair and carried Colonial bouquets of spring flowers.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Harry Addison.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown. The bodice was tight-fitting with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves pointed over the hands. The skirt, long and full, ended in a court train over which fell the wedding veil of illusion caught to the head with a coronet of orange blossoms.

Her bouquet was fashioned of white gladioli and orange blossoms tied with long lengths of white illusion and white satin ribbons.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia Hotel. Beautiful flowers were arranged in the background forming a charming setting for the wedding party. The bride's mother wore a pale green crepe model with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua blue model with a small pink flowered hat and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Stanley Reid, serving at the punch bowl, wore a black and white model with small white flowered hat. Miss Madeline Cannon, assisting in servicing, wore a black and white model with white lace hat. Mrs. Nina Poole, assisting in the courtesies, wore a navy blue model with small white hat. They all wore corsages of white carnations.

The bride's table, overlaid with handkerchief lace over pale green satin, was encircled with Madonna lilies interwoven with white tulle. Plaques of lilies were placed at the four corners and at either end tall white tapers gleamed in silver candelabra. The wedding cake, a luscious three-tiered confection formed the central decor. Individual wedding cakes and frosted fruit punch was served.

Before leaving on her honeymoon the bride changed her wedding veil for a lovely tulle veil of pastel blue with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison will spend their honeymoon in New Orleans and the Gulf Coast and in Houston, Tex. When they return to Monroe they will be at home to their friends temporarily with the bride's parents in Edgewater Gardens.

The bride, a young woman of charming personality is a graduate of the Ouchita Parish High School. She is associated with the Monroe News-Star-World Publishing Corporation in the capacity of classified clerk. Mr. Addison is a graduate of the Ouchita Parish High School. He is associated with the Southern Carbon Company.

Schmidt-Ikerd Nuptials Of Interest Here

The interest to friends in this section of the state is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Eileen Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schmidt of Hodge, La., and Mr. Edward L. Ikerd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ikerd of this city.

The wedding took place at the Hodge Methodist Church, April 20, with the pastor, Rev. A. G. Taylor, officiating. The altar was bedecked with Woodwardia ferns and garden baskets overflowing with white gladioli formed a semi-circle for the wedding party.

Seven-branched candelabra held white tapers which were lighted preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Pyburn Walker, at the piano, rendered a program of pre-nuptial music which included "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Samson and "Dellilah" by St. Saens, and "Barcarolle" from Tales of Hoffman. During the wedding ceremony, Mrs. Walker played "Liebestraum" from Liszt. She also accompanied Mrs. John C. Michard, who sang "Because" by De Har-delot.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. W. E. Schmidt. She wore a poudre blue crepe model with pink gloves, a black hat with pink rosebuds, black patent sandals and carried a black patent bag. Her bridal corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. James Watson, of Shreveport, was her sister's only attendant. She wore a navy blue sheer model with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Louis Beard, of Monroe, served his brother-in-law as best man. Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The refreshment table was beautifully decorated for this occasion and featured a handsome three-tiered bride's cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Each tier was delicately embossed with lilies of the valley in attractive arrangement. Mrs. Jimmie Watson presided at the cake and Mrs. Fred Schmidt, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Schmidt, Jr., served the punch.

The young couple left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home in Monroe, where Mr. Ikerd is employed by the Trousadale Printing Co. He recently returned from 17 months of service in Italy.

For traveling, Mrs. Ikerd wore a smart green suit with a sheer blouse of gold. Her accessories were of brown and white. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Ikerd was employed by Strauss and Company of Monroe.

BREAD IS NOW the chief subject of conversation. With the limited supply of wheat flour the time has come to select your bread with great discrimination. MEL-O-TOAST bread from the CITY BAKERY is a must in every household . . . one slice of MEL-O-TOAST packed with precious vitamins is equal to two or three slices of the average bread. Don't just ask for bread . . . insist on MEL-O-TOAST. If your grocer can't supply you drop in at the CITY BAKERY.

THE CASCADE each day grows to new heights in public esteem. The high quality and the character of the drinks served at the CASCADE has placed this swanky cocktail lounge on a high plane. Every drink at the CASCADE, whether it is lowly lemonade in a champagne cocktail is a triumph. When you have guests take them to the CASCADE before dinner and by all means drop in at this the evening when friends gather hospitable cocktail lounge later in the common consent.

BREAKFAST IN HOLLYWOOD WILL BE FEATURED IN THIS CITY BY DELTA RHO DELTA SORORITY

The campaign for funds for the blind started in this city by members of Delta Rho Delta sorority reminds one that there couldn't be a more appropriate time than early summer for this drive.

Early summer is a season which one senses the beauty of the world almost more than one sees. If one is sightless, as so many are in ordinary times and so many, many more after these last bitter years of war, the promise of spring means happier days even though the beauty of the world can't be seen.

A dramatic appeal for funds for the Lighthouse For The Blind in Orleans is being made by members of the local chapter of Delta Rho Delta sorority through the medium of a nationally known radio program, "Breakfast In Hollywood."

Through the cooperation of Jack O'Mara, business manager for Breakfast in Hollywood and KMLB, local radio station, Delta Rho Delta sorority has secured these hats which will be auctioned off May 27, Frances room, from 7-10 p. m. There will be no admission fee. KMLB has arranged to have the auction broadcast over the air from the Frances roof. Five of the hats will be raffled off by means of tickets sold in advance to the night of the auction. All proceeds from this affair will go to the Braille Institute of America. The Lighthouse For The Blind in New Orleans has been chosen by Delta Rho Delta as the charitable institute in Louisiana to receive a return 35 per cent from the Braille Institute.

A special appeal has been made to the Rotary, Lion, Kiwanis, Exchange, Y's Men, AMVETS, American Legion, Parent-Teacher Association of Monroe and West Monroe and all women organizations for support in this auction of hats for charity. From each men's club three men will be selected to model the hats at the auction. A group of beautiful girls from the various clubs will also model the remaining hats. A special prize will be offered to the most attractive model in the men's style revue and the judges of this contest will be chosen from the audience. Mr. Ron Campbell will act as auctioneer and Mr. Otto Passman will act as master of ceremonies.

During the coming two weeks, most of the hats will be on display in the various store windows in the Monroe and West Monroe area.

Names of the models will be announced at a later date.

Purely Personal

How nice it is to pause and pay tribute to a man who, having reached the retirement stage of life, finds himself in a position to do the things we all dream of doing some day. Mr. George W. Hyle, vice-president and purchasing agent of the Weeks Supply Company recently announced his decision to retire from active duty effective May 1. That date marked the end of his 28th year of service with Weeks Supply Company. He announced his intention to spend a year at least traveling with Mrs. Hyle, who is looking forward to many happy days during the years ahead. They have many interests in common and are exceptionally companionable.

Mr. Hyle's business associates expressed their sincere regret in his retirement at a dinner party in his honor at the Rendezvous. A handsome watch, engraved with "In Appreciation—George W. Hyle—Weeks Supply Company, Ltd.," was presented to Mr. Hyle at this time. Mr. George Weeks, Jr., made the presentation speech and spoke of his fondness for Mr. Hyle and like his father, had the greatest respect for his ability and sound judgment. The gift was presented in recognition of his years of faithful service, loyalty and the high esteem in which he is held. Mr. Weeks concluded his remarks by saying he hoped the gift would serve as a constant reminder of the many happy years of friendships and that the leisure years ahead would bring happiness and contentment.

Employees of the Weeks Supply Company presented Mr. Hyle with a handsome pen and pencil set at this time. Mr. Hyle expressed his appreciation in characteristic manner and announced that he and Mrs. Hyle would spend the remainder of this year traveling and then settle down again at their home at 1101 North Third Street. He voiced his thanks for the privilege of being associated with a company that instituted a retirement plan in recognition of service.

Those privileged to enjoy this happy occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Hyle were the associates of Weeks Supply Company, and their families, including Mr. and Mrs. George G. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. McCleary, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Humble, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crow, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Valley Forge is a name revered by all patriotic Americans. That's why the building of the Bell Tower at Valley Forge is of general interest and especially to members of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Members of Fort Miro Chapter, D. A. The tower will be dedicated to the Revolutionary Patriots who established the American Way of Life and to the men and women of World War I and II who have preserved that precious heritage. In the tower there will be a Memorial Roll of Honor, a wa-

MRS. C. D. M'ADAMS SERVES AS PROGRAM CHAIRMAN AT LITERARY CLUB MEETING

Members of the Monroe Literary Club were graciously entertained in the home of Mrs. Guy DuPriest for the May meeting. After a short business session, the following program was rendered: Mrs. C. D. McAdams, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Wayne Benson, who gave an interesting paper on "The Burma Surgeon," by Dr. Gordon Seagraves. She said in part:

Dr. Gordon Seagraves' missionary life began in Namkham, Burma in 1922. He spent his time in curing many of the natives both with medicine and surgery. There were many who didn't trust him, and to try him, one native went to Dr. Seagraves for an examination. The doctor found he had tuberculosis of the lungs and told him he could not possibly live more than a year. Luck was with the doctor as the man died exactly one year to the day. Another man came who needed a goiter removed. It was the first operation of that type that the doctor had done. Tiny, Dr. Seagraves wife, gave the ether. The goiter was the size of a grapefruit and the operation was a success. After that business began to pick up. There were many, many more successful operations and all in all the Seagraves were off to a good start on their mission.

Long before World War II threatened, Dr. Seagraves was carrying on his own war against malaria, dysentery, plague, and all manner of body disorders. In the North Shan states he started his medical mission with a wastebasket full of broken down surgical instruments salvaged from John Hopkins. Under Dr. Seagraves energetic direction huts in the wilderness became modern hospitals, primitive conditions became civilized; simple native girls are trained to be nurses whose skill astonish all observers. Then the world and the war came nearer. The Burma road is built; an airplane factory is constructed; the Chinese army calls on the doctor's resources. When the storm breaks over all Burma, Dr. Seagraves is commissioned a major in the medical corps, to care for the wounded. Through days and nights of Japanese bombing, he performs emergency operations amid the flames of burning towns. When the order comes, Dr. Seagraves and his unit join the retreat with General Stilwell, and the book ends with a day by day account of that historic trek through the jungle to India.

At the conclusion of the program, delightful refreshments were served and an enjoyable social hour was spent. The following new members were admitted to the club: Mrs. W. T. Ellis, Mrs. S. E. Holloway, and Mrs.

2,000 Veterans Are Jobless IN OUACHITA PARISH

Meeting of Employers
8 p. m. Tuesday, May 14, court room, 2nd floor, Ouachita Parish Court House to hear full explanation of apprenticeship "on the job" training program.

Here Are Actual Statements From Local Firms Who Are Utilizing "On The Job and Apprenticeship Training Program"

GIVE THAT VET A JOB

THE SOLUTION . . .

Full utilization of the educational subsistence allowances under the GI Bill of Rights and its amendments for apprenticeship and on-the-job training.

THE PRESENT SITUATION . . .

Many veterans eligible for the allowance ($65 a month for single veterans and $90 a month for veterans with dependents) are not receiving it because the business establishments for which they are working have not applied for certification as places for training. Many firms that are operating short-handed could easily add one or more employees.

WHY?

Lack of information on the part of employers. The misconception that certification involves a further intrusion of government into business.

For apprenticeship training at the United States Employment Service Office on South Grand Street. For on-the-job training, at the office of the Ouachita Parish Superintendent of Schools in Monroe or at the Ouachita Valley Vocational Training School in West Monroe. A telephone request for certification at either place is all that is necessary.

Here Are Statements From Some of Our Vets

EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:
When I first returned to civilian life from the Armed Services, I was undecided as to what profession I wanted to pursue. What I really wanted to do, was to get connected with some Implement or Motor company, and handle parts. But, as I had never had any training in this line, I knew I couldn't make enough, just starting out, to support myself and my family. In the first place, I knew I wouldn't be worth to my employer what he would have to pay me in order for me to "get by."

In the meantime, I took another job. It was a nice job, and I made a comfortable living. But I just wasn't satisfied. I wasn't in the kind of work I was most interested in.

Now comes the important part to me. I heard about the Veterans' Training On-the-Job Program. I investigated at once and found it to be just what I had been looking for. I applied with Mr. Mitchell, at the West Monroe Tractor & Equipment Co. for Parts Man and I got the job.

He doesn't have to pay me more than I'm worth to him while I'm learning; yet, I'm making a decent living, with the aid given by the Training On-the-Job Program.

The best part of it all: I'm in the work that I'm interested in, and I'm being paid while I learn.

Sincerely,
Arthur Johnson

EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:

I would like to say that I welcome the opportunity of the benefits of the veterans' on-the-job training program. I plan to apply myself and advance as rapidly as possible. The subsistence allowance will help to keep me going until I become trained in the work that I intend to follow.

Yours very truly,

STATEMENT OF TWO OF BABER'S FOUR ON-THE-JOB TRAINEES:

Billy D. Neill, 25 years old, training as a furniture refinisher:
I like this set-up fine. I'm doing what I wanted to do for a long time.

I used to do a little amateur furniture refinishing at night before I went in the Army. I was working for a plant nursery then. I'm going to keep at this till I know all about furniture construction and renovation.

The government really came up with a good idea when it set up this program of cooperation with employers to make possible training for veterans. The employer doesn't have to pay a veteran more than he's worth as he trains, but the government educational subsistence allowance the veteran draws while he's learning builds his way up to a good living.

I hope a lot of my buddies are able to get in on this program. They used to talk a lot about getting back into civilian life and getting the right kind of start.

Leonard Audreth, 32 years old, training as a home appliance service man:
As a mechanic in the Army air force, I found out that I had a mechanical turn of mind. I worked for a building supply firm before I went into the service. But that was just a job. I'm now doing what I like to do and want to do.

I'm thankful that the government thought up such a thing as on-the-job training. And I'm thankful to Mr. Baber for making it possible for me to train here in his place of business.

It looks to me like this program is just the thing to get a lot of source men out of round holes and fitted in the place where they belong.

I feel like I'm going somewhere on this job and I'm sure I am.

JAMES MACHINE WORKS
(Employee)

TO THE EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:

I was asked by the Veterans Administration to express a Veteran's opinion on the subject of working ex-service men and women.

It is my opinion that every Veteran, if thought capable, be given an opportunity. There were a great many given special training in the service which should be valuable to the employer. Even those who are not highly skilled should be given a break if they are willing to learn and work. I am one of the fortunate. I have been given that chance.

Has your establishment been approved? If not, why not? A place of business must be approved by the Veterans Administration before a Veteran can secure his or her subsistence from the Government.

As far as I know I am the first Veteran in Ouachita Parish to work as an apprentice machinist under the G. I. Bill.

GENTLEMEN: Why not help the men who helped you?

Yours very truly,

Roy G. Simmons

TO THE EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:

We are a Certified Shop under the Apprenticeship Training Program and are in full accord with its objectives.

At the present we have young men employed under this program.

This Apprenticeship Training set up has many advantages for the employer as well as to the employee.

The principal advantage to the employer is that of giving him a steady, ambitious young man, who being required to take a related course of study on his own time, will later on make him a very highly skilled employee.

To the employee, the outstanding advantage is that of being given financial assistance by the government while he is learning a useful trade.

The writer strongly urges all local employers to give as much employment as possible to returned veterans under this program that they may receive the added benefits of the governmental assistance.

Very truly yours,

EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:

I speak in behalf of the West Monroe Tractor & Equipment Company, in regards to the Veterans' Training On-the-Job.

As this is a very new business, having opened February 15th of this year, naturally we were interested in getting workers to adequately handle our business and yet hold down our operating cost to as low a level as possible.

The On-the-Job Training for Veterans just "hit the spot" with us. Not only did it give us a chance to secure and train new and needed employees at a reasonable cost, but at the same time it enabled the veteran to learn a trade and find his place in society at a wage enabling him to support himself and his family.

We are completely satisfied with the Training On-the-Job, and we are sure the Veteran who is "on-the-job" is, too.

EMPLOYERS OF OUACHITA PARISH:

We are participating in the on-the-job training program for veterans of World War II and recommend it to other establishments.

We are training four veterans, two in furniture refinishing, one as a furniture repairman, or cabinet maker, and one as an appliance service man. Three of these men saw service overseas.

Our firm was approached to offer training February 8 of this year. We, therefore, feel we have had sufficient time to observe how veterans apply themselves to civilian pursuits.

The four veterans we are training are industrious and start already an asset to our organization. They are applying themselves seriously to the line of work they have chosen and learning rapidly.

We consider it a privilege to be able to assist these veterans in reestablishing themselves in civilian life. We know of no better way that a firm can serve the community from which it draws its patronage than to aid veterans to improve themselves economically and as a whole, same time increase their value to society as a whole.

VETERANS' COUNCIL

(Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, American Veterans of World War II, Disabled American Veterans, Marine Corps League, United Spanish War Veterans)

LOCAL D. A. R. MEMBERS WILL ATTEND DEDICATION SERVICES OF VALLEY FORGE TOWER

The building of the Bell Tower at Valley Forge is of general interest to many here and especially so at this time as the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution is planning a dedication ceremony at Valley Forge on May 24, when the states of Alabama, California, Connecticut, Georgia, District of Columbia, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska and Oklahoma will dedicate their stars on the great national birthday bell. Representatives from the local Fort Miro Chapter will be present on this occasion.

The tower will be dedicated to the Revolutionary patriots who established the American way of life and to the men and women of World Wars I and II who have preserved that precious heritage. In the tower will be a memorial roll of honor, a wainscoting of three series of metal plates on which names will be inscribed. The first series will record the Revolutionary patriots. The second series will be names of men and women of World Wars I and II whose ancestors were Revolutionary soldiers. The third series will give the patriots of the two World Wars whose families came to this country more recently. The names of any person serving in either war may be in this list. Each branch will be shown, the Army, Navy, Marine, Coast Guard, Nurses' Corps, and the Merchant Marine. Each state will be kept separately and there will be a large metal tablet bearing the D. A. R. insignia explaining the lists and dedicating the tower to these men and women.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have, from the beginning, taken a leading part in the development of Valley Forge as a national shrine. The bell tower will be built principally of stone, will be ninety-five feet in height and will have eight stained glass windows wrought by Nicola D'Ascenzo, the talented artist, maker of the Washington Chapel windows.

Tryouts Held For The Last Little Theatre Play

Tryouts for "My Sister Eileen," rollicking three-act comedy by Fields and Chodorov, are being held this week by the Monroe Little Theatre at the Little Theatre workshop, Neville High School. The play is being directed by Lorenzo Smith, former full-time director of the Monroe Little Theatre and recently returned from service in the armed forces.

Final tryouts for the cast will be held Sunday afternoon, May 12 at the workshop.

The cast includes 27 members. The play is full of side splitting situations and is definitely on the comedy side. The plot revolves around the experiences of two sisters, Ruth and Eileen from Columbus, Ohio, who have rented an apartment in New York, where they expect to carve out a career of fame and riches. The apartment was formerly occupied by Violet, a person of undetermined character. The resulting situations are guaranteed to furnish a complete evening of escape entertainment.

Mr. Smith expects to have the play ready for presentation, the first week in June. "My Sister Eileen," will be the last Little Theatre play of the current season.

WHAT "Cravenette" SERVICE IS

●This is a service which, in addition to dry cleaning, impacts to apparel, or apparel fabrics, a high repellency to water.

●The pores of the cloth remain open as before, and there is no change in looks, feel, or finish.

●But the garment or fabric, instead of being limp and "slack" when returned to you, as often happens when a garment is merely dry cleaned, has a slight added firmness similar to the "feel" of a new garment.

●Also, garments treated with "Cravenette" water repellents usually retain their shape better, and wear longer.

●However, before a garment can be treated with "Cravenette" water repellents it must be clean, hence we dry clean the garment as a necessary first step.

●If a garment is badly soiled, or stained, it may be impossible to clean it completely.

●In such cases we can do only the best which the conditions allow.

●Such garments, however, are greatly improved in appearance, and repellency to showers is fully restored.

●The many millions of people, who for 53 years have had the benefit of "Cravenette" water repellents have found it a practical, clothes-conserving service.

●We think you, also, will find this to be true.

FOR $2.50 YOU CAN REVIVE THAT TOPCOAT

Possibly, it no longer sheds showers. Perhaps it is in need of a dry cleaning. Send your topcoat to us and, as a necessary first step, we will give it a dry cleaning; then we will treat it with "Cravenette" water repellents so it will repel showers as effectively as when new. If it was originally water repellent we will restore its repellency. If it was not originally water repellent, we will impart it. Result—your topcoat, raincoat, or jacket will be good for a lot more service—better service. Try this "Cravenette" water repelling service—famous for more than 50 years—and see if you don't agree that it is an excellent way to conserve clothes.

ASSAULT TAKES SECOND LAP ON HIS WAY TO TRIPLE CROWN

Derby Victory Repeats In Preackness To Win Turf's Richest Purse

By Sid Feder

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Baltimore, May 11.—(P)—Assault committed murder again in the Preackness today, just as he did in the Kentucky Derby last week.

The club-footed comet from Texas turned on the steam after three quarters of a mile and hustled home a neck to the good in this richest race in history.

And again he was laughing at all the rest when he hit the wire, although he had to hurry it up a bit more this time than he did a week ago.

And just as he did before a record crowd last week at Churchill Downs—he strutted his stuff this time before the greatest throng ever to see a horse race in Maryland, 42,370.

There were none of the alibis for any of the others this time as there were last.

The sleek sturdy Lord Boswell was running clear all the way, and although he practically set fire to the stretch to come from next to last in the field of ten and run over the others to wind up second, he wasn't good enough to overhaul the Texas terror.

And Hampden, the Delaware dandy who was piloted this time by Heady Eddie Arcaro, king of the riders, closed up to third—but third in this case was fourth length and a neck away, and Hampden was a-wearying at the finish.

Both of them did better than they did down the stretch. Lord Boswell, who was running clear all the way, still wasn't good enough as the kid from the wide open spaces proved to be a chip off the old block once more.

For, it was just ten years ago that Assault's daddy, Bold Venture, danced home in the Derby, then took the train ride to Baltimore and repeated in the Preackness.

But while Bold Venture broke down after nailing the two jewels in the triple crown—and had to retire—there was nothing wrong with Assault after his work tonight that a good meal didn't fix up just fine.

Ahead, for the chocolate champ, lies the third gem in the crown—The Belmont—three weeks hence. And unless he gets a sudden attack of measles, or some such thing, or some of the others come up with a new jet-propelled engine—he looks like death-and-taxes to become the seventh horse in the book to put that crown on his brown mane.

Today, in this greatest day in Maryland racing history, a day that saw all crowds and betting records wiped out, he was the tenth horse ever to win this Derby-and-Preackness double. And never before has any double rung up the cash register like this one.

The biggest pot of gold ever put up for a horse race was waiting at the finish line for the four who got home "fustest with the mostest"—a total of $139,620, compared to the previous high of $138,220 for last winter's Santa Anita Handicap.

JIM LOTT BILLED ON MAT PROGRAM

Former Alabama Football Star To Meet Dizzy Davis In Main Event

Dizzy Davis, the Hollywood playboy, returns to Monroe Tuesday night for a main event struggle with Jimmy Lott, former University of Alabama football player, at Gus Kallio's Arena, it was announced last night.

Lott, billed locally for the first time, invades Monroe with a reputation as a strong brawler who favors the use of flying tackles and blocks, and the airplane spin to conquer his foes, according to Promoter Kallio. The ex-Tideman weighs 215 pounds and stands just five feet and six inches tall.

But the former Red Elephant will have a job on his hands trying to handle clever Davis, who is considered one of the most talented and "best dressed" tusslers in the business today. The handsome Davis also is one of the most versatile of matmen, capable of wrestling clean or otherwise.

For his semi-final event "Sockeye" McDonald, the Oregon lumberjack and Roy Graham, huge Texas cowboy. Both McDonald and Graham are powerful and fast for their size. The curtain-raiser may prove the spice of the program.

The featured brawl will have a 90-minute time limit, and the semi-final, opening the show at 8 o'clock, will have a time limit of one hour. Both scraps will go three falls or until one batter can win two heats.

Both of them did better than they did down the stretch. Lord Boswell, who was running clear all the way, still wasn't good enough as the kid from the wide open spaces proved to be a chip off the old block once more.

REISER'S HOMER SAVES DODGERS

9th Inning Clout Gives Dodgers 12-11 Triumph Over Phillies

BROOKLYN, May 11.—(P)—Pete Reiser poked a home run on the first ball offered by Hugh Mulcahy in the ninth inning today to climax the Brooklyn Dodgers' uphill battle for a 12 to 11 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and the triumph moved the Dodgers in to a virtual first-place tie with the Cardinals.

The Dodgers used a strong brawler who favors the use of flying tackles and blocks, and the airplane spin to conquer his foes, according to Promoter Kallio. The ex-Tideman weighs 215 pounds and stands just five feet and six inches tall.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 11.—(P)—In a friendly spirit, Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler sounded off about the weakness of college baseball in speaking to the college sports publicists here the other day. And in an equally friendly spirit, the public relations men slapped him down. . . . The Drumbeaters, showing unusually lively interest in the "dead" game, pointed out that so many kids had turned out for baseball squads this spring that in many schools, Michigan State, Western Michigan and Virginia to name just a few, it had been necessary to organize "B" teams. . . . Even junior colleges are taking up the game and they claim the percentage of schools supporting teams is much greater than among the high schools, which now enjoy the protection of organized baseball.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(P)—The spectacular winning streak of the Boston Red Sox was snapped at 15 today, four short of the American League record, as Burly Tiny Bonham pitched the New York Yankees to a two-hit victory, 2 to 0.

Bonham was such a complete master of the situation as he moved down the formidable array of Boston sluggers in the late stanzas of the crowd of 53,286, including 52,011 paid, seemed aware that the slightly tainted run the home club scored in the third inning and Tommy Henrich's home run into the right field stands in the fifth would be enough.

With the game devoid of the spectacular, aside from Bonham's pitching, the crowd aimed its vocal blasts primarily at Ted Williams, the Red Sox great slugger who for the second straight day went hitless.

It was unfortunate day for the lanky left fielder. In addition to being called out on strikes with two on bases in the third inning, his play on Hank Majeski's high, lazy fly was directly responsible for the first Yankee run.

TECH CONCERT LIST ATTRACTS

Variety Of Music, Dance And Drama Provided For Coming Year

RUSTON, La., May 11.—(Special)—Listing such prominent entertainment stars as Metropolitan Tenor Jan Peerce, Ballet Dancer Trudi Schoop, Oscar Straus, and the Barter Theater group on the schedule for the 1946-47 season, Louisiana Tech's Concert Association will offer a variety of music, dance and drama presentations to audiences here during the next school year.

Although booking for the season is still incomplete, final arrangements have been definitely made for five programs, members of the selection committee have announced.

Heading the list will be Jan Peerce, the Metropolitan Opera Company's star tenor and well-known radio and concert performer. The date for his appearance has not been set yet, the committee reported.

Ballet in a distinctly unique presentation will be given by Trudi Schoop and her group of dancers, who

AMVETS PLANNING STATE CONVENTION

Otto E. Passman, Louisiana department commander, will outline preliminary plans for the state convention of Amvets here in June at Tuesday night's meeting of Walter S. Savage, Jr., Post and its auxiliary at the Ouachita Parish courthouse.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Officers for the ensuing year will be nominated by the post. A fund-raising proposal will be discussed by the auxiliary. Separate sessions will be held after Commander Passman's talk.

The state convention of Amvets is set for June 8 and 9.

Walter Savage Post was originally slated to meet Monday night, but the meeting was postponed to Tuesday night to avoid a conflict with a barbecue arranged by the Monroe Post of the American Legion.

WELFARE WORK IS EXPLAINED

Director M'Guire Tells Women Voters' League Of Program

At the last regular meeting of the League of Women Voters James N. McGuire, director of the Ouachita Parish Department of Public Welfare, was the guest speaker. He analyzed the appropriation that is to be presented to the legislature to meet public assistance and operating expenses of this Louisiana Department of Public Welfare during the biennium of 1946-1948.

Mr. McGuire reviewed the history of this department's care of the needy in the categories of the aged, the blind, the handicapped, and dependent children. He showed that caseloads had declined during the war years, while employment was available, and people with limited ability could be gainfully employed. He said that contributions from relatives who were employed at relatively high wages in war industries were greater than in normal times, and that family incomes were supplemented by allotments from men or women in service.

He explained the rise in applications for public assistance which occurs when the least employable groups lose their part-time employment due to curtailment of industry, and when contributions from relatives are decreased. He also explained the matching between state and federal funds in the several categories, and explained the basic budget asked for the next two years.

The discussion on these points was enlightening and helpful. Many questions were asked, and the members of the league expressed their support of the appropriation by voting to endorse the bill as presented.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, president of the league, announced that she and Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, who had recently attended the national convention of the League of Women Voters would have a great deal of material to give the local league, both at special and regular meetings.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie

(Associated Press Foreign News Analyst)
Whether Winston Churchill's idea of a "United States of Europe, both of the East and the West" materializes as a goodwill measure of peaceful collaboration, the indications are that the Old World will in any event be divided into two blocs—friendly or otherwise.

As I pointed out in yesterday's column, one bloc already has been formed in main, and that is the new Russian zone of influence which blankets most of the countries of Eastern Europe and the Balkans. The logical corollary to that will be a Western bloc of nations which will combine because of their special community of interests, including a democratic form of government that is at variance with the Soviet totalitarianism.

Appropos of this thought, Mr. Churchill said in his speech at the Hague:

"We hope that the Western democracies of Europe will draw together in ever closer unity and ever closer association. This is a matter which should be very carefully considered and, if found wise, should be pressed from many angles with the utmost perseverance."

Naturally the fact that there were two groups of nations wouldn't ipso facto mean that they must be at logger-heads. Mr. Churchill's "United States of Europe, both of the East and the West," under the guidance of a world organization, would be calculated "to unify this continent in a manner never known since the fall of the Roman Empire."

That would be the ideal. The cold reality is that nobody can say now what the relations among the Old World nations will be in the Europe of tomorrow. We cannot determine that until the realignment of the zones of influence has been finished—or at least until it is clear how great a change is contemplated.

The great unknown quantity at the moment is Russia's program. Moscow long ago made it quite clear that the Soviet Union was determined on extending its sphere of influence to the line from Stettin in Northern Germany southward along the Eastern borders of Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria to the Adriatic. The Russians also have emphasized their intention of having access to the Mediterranean. Broadly speaking, after we have noted these facts we get a dim-out.

The question agitating United Nations diplomats is how far Russia intends to try to expand. Lack of information on that vital point is one of the chief causes of all the troubles which have been bedeviling the security council of the United Nations and the unhappy conference of Big Four foreign ministers in Paris.

That surely is a gloomy background for a United States of Europe which will unify the continent. Already it has produced sharp divergence of views between Russian and the Anglo-American fraternity. Whether that divergence will expand into the formation of a defensive bloc of Western European nations will depend on developments in the immediate future. Unless Russia shows its hand and relieves the suspicions and fears of the other Allies, a Western bloc is most likely. And the existence of two blocs formed under such circumstances scarcely could inspire amity.

Would You Sell Your Last Pair of Shoes?

Would you sell your last pair of shoes, when no new ones were available?

Foolish question, isn't it?

Yet the man who sells his car, in the expectation of immediately getting a new one, is every bit as foolish. Factors beyond the control of producers and dealers have made the supply of new cars still uncertain.

But this fact IS certain. Your new car dealer wants to serve the public—as quickly and as completely as possible. He wants to do his part with new cars and with used cars . . . to provide dependable transportation to as many people as possible.

Your new car dealer wants to sell you a new car just as quickly as possible—but he wants your used car—because on such a deal he not only serves you but he expands his service to others.

Keep the car you have until the new car of your choice is ready for you. Then let your new car dealer have it. He will allow you on the trade-in the most generous legally established price for it. You will be co-operating with him. You will be co-operating with your fellow citizens.
